“Board Shorts”

Thursday 24 August 2017, 12 noon-2pm

Join us for a networking lunch event and hear from renowned author, Henri Eliot, who will present some of the latest material from his recently published book, “Board Shorts”.

“Boards Shorts” offers insights on effective governance for aspiring and experienced directors. Henri will give his perspectives on a range of topics from establishing a board of directors for the first time to reviewing the board’s performance. These briefings cover most areas of interest for people in corporate governance and provide a global perspective.

“Board Shorts” was conceived over the past couple of years as a result of the many requests to have Henri’s articles consolidated into one collection. Bearing in mind Henri has written more than 100 articles, it was a challenge to select just 28 classic briefings. During his presentation Henri will take you through an in-depth look at some of his favorites. Each topic will be simultaneously entertaining and educational for the audience, and will help to provide real insights for the next generation of directors.

Henri Eliot

Henri Eliot has retired from more boards and institutes than most people have joined, so founding Board Dynamics in 2009 was a logical step. He now uses his experience to help boards function at their peak.

Henri has an international education and broad experience, having studied at universities in four countries – UK, Canada, USA and New Zealand. He received his LLB (Hons) from the University of London, his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science from McGill University in Canada and his MBA from Richmond

University in the United Kingdom.

His senior executive career has followed a similar path, working with JP Morgan Chase and PwC in the UK, Deloitte in New York, the Bank of Montreal in Toronto, and in telecommunications and ICT in New Zealand.

Henri recently completed the prestigious MIT Global Entrepreneurship Bootcamp and was awarded a certificate in New Ventures Leadership from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Along with his work as an executive, Henri is a regular contributor to the NZ Herald, National Business Review, Idealog magazine and other publications.

Members and non-members welcome.
