

Dear First Name,

GRC Solutions in conjunction with Kensington Swan Lawyers invites you to a free seminar on:
The regulatory impact of the digital age

The digital age has brought numerous challenges to business: the rise of social media; impacts on personal privacy; data protection and internet fraud issues; high-frequency trading; and changes to the way we work, whether at the office or home or on the road. Regulation often struggles to keep up with this fast pace of change.

Kensington Swan Lawyers invite you to join us for a panel discussion to help address some of these issues. Panellists include:

Moderator – Dennis Murray,
Director of MyLawGuide.

A lawyer and journalist, Dennis began MyLawGuide to help organisations keep watch over ever-changing legal responsibilities.

Hayley Miller, Partner
Kensington Swan

Hayley is a technology and commercial lawyer specialising in IT, telecommunications, intellectual property, outsourcing and commercial supply and procurement. Hayley has extensive experience in a wide range of technology-focused transactions and advice including licensing, development, commercialisation and supply and acquisition.

Aaron Toatelegese, Head of Enterprise Technology Services
Bank of New Zealand

Toatelegese rose the ranks to take the top ICT role, having been with the bank for 18 years. He leads one of the largest ICT teams in the country, tasked with managing over 9000 screens.

Julian Fenwick, Managing Director
GRC Solutions

GRC Solutions is the recognised leader in the online compliance training market in the Asia Pacific region. Julian has worked in online legal services for over 15 years and has witnessed the significant changes in risk faced by business during the rise of the digital age.

Tim Slack, Senior Analyst
MyLawGuide

Tim Slack LLB has been a commercial lawyer for over 25 years of which 17 have been as a partner, most recently in an Auckland commercial law practice. He was a board member of the Judicial Control Authority for Racing, and now works primarily in the areas of compliance and governance.
