Economic Update Breakfast

Wednesday 26 October 2016, Auckland

Well known ASB Chief Economist, Nick Tuffley, will provide an update and outlook for the New Zealand economy including:

- The fluid global environment in 2016 may still have a few surprises in store: will Hillary Clinton be trumped? How much will Brexit hurt the UK? How are China and the US holding up?
- Locally, the economy has a few challenges, like low dairy prices and high house prices.
- But aside from that, there are a number of industries and regions that are doing relatively well.
- Inflation, though, is almost non-existent, giving the Reserve Bank some scope to keep cutting interest rates.
- Housing risks will, however, remain a bit of a constraint on how far the Reserve Bank is prepared to go, even with a strong NZ dollar hampering its efforts.

Presenter

Nick Tuffley – Chief Economist, ASB

Nick Tuffley was appointed as ASB's Chief Economist in January 2007, having previously worked at Westpac and the Reserve Bank of New Zealand. Nick studied at Canterbury University, graduating with a Master of Commerce in Economics.

Nick and the rest of the Economics team provide regular analysis of economic developments and the outlook through written publications and media comments. Their key objective is to help the bank's clients make better-informed business and personal finance decisions.
