ONE DAY CONFERENCE 2017

Own your Journey to the Boardroom

Welcome to Women on Boards One Day Conference 2017

An invitation.....

The Women on Boards One Day Conference is bursting with inspirational speakers armed with an array of invaluable insights, experiences and wisdom to share. You'll leave this year's conference feeling more empowered, motivated and inspired to make a positive impact on your governance career.

Speakers have been carefully selected to deliver on the conference theme of "Own your Journey to the Boardroom", from the absorbing opening key note address through to our closing fun-but-thought-provoking interactive session. Topics covered include the insider's guide to securing board roles, a fascinating case study, creating powerful connections, building your personal brand, insights from two panel discussions, a table top facilitated session, plus many more....

Not only will the day offer valuable insights, it is also provides the perfect platform to network and further increase your personal and business contacts. New Zealand is very much about making connections and this conference will certainly help you to increase these.

The Women in Governance Awards Gala Dinner is being held on the evening of the conference and will be a glittering affair. What a way to finish off an amazing day! I hope you will join us for the dinner and help celebrate the success of your fellow women who are striving to create a more gender diverse world.

I wholeheartedly encourage you to make an investment in growing your governance career and hope I have an opportunity to meet you on Thursday 18 May.

Linda Noble

Dr Rosanne Hawarden FCIS

Rosanne has degrees in nursing and midwifery, human resources, and information technology. She holds a Doctorate in Business and Administration and is an internationally recognised scholar in diversity on boards of directors. Other board appointments include the Medical Radiation Technologists board and Women on Boards New Zealand Inc. She is a director of a company representing a large international software house specialising in manufacturing and accounting (ERP) systems.

Erica Jenkin

Erica Jenkin is currently the Group General Manager Risk at SKYCITY Entertainment Group. She has 20 plus years of experience in governance, risk management, assurance, and process improvement spread across a number of industries including airline, entertainment, media, banking, insurance, energy and FMCG/retail. Erica has also worked overseas during her career, in Belgium, Vietnam and the Cook Islands. Otherwise she describes herself as a kiwi girl, living in Mission Bay and enjoys being involved with the governance and risk side of a number of not-for-profit boards as well as mentoring organisations.

David Jones NZOM

David Jones is a senior lawyer specialising in corporate advisory and finance. His clients include listed companies, diverse corporates and charitable trusts. He recently retired as the Chairman of the New Zealand Takeovers Panel (which regulates changes in the control of NZ companies), and as a member of the Australian Takeovers Panel. Carmel Murphy

Carmel Murphy is known by clients and colleagues alike as the "Networking Queen" but it wasn't always that way. Just 7 years ago, she felt out of place, awkward, shy and fearful of strangers. Now thriving on meeting new people and making new contacts, Carmel's passion is to create meaningful and authentic face-to-face relationships with people, and provide tools to others for building rapport and connecting on a personal level. She affectionately calls it "dating for business." As well as running her own coaching business, Carmel has successfully started 6 business networks, speaks at conferences, facilitates and is MC at women specific business events and, in her spare time, organises charity fundraisers.

Linda Noble

As Chief Executive of Governance New Zealand and Women on Boards, Linda is responsible for the delivery of strategic objectives that enhance the reach and reputation of these organisations locally and globally. Linda is passionate about promoting the careers of governance professionals, encouraging diversity at executive and board level, and providing support services to a community of like-minded professionals.
