

Presenter Profile

Henri Eliot

Henri Eliot has retired from more boards and institutes than most people have joined, so founding Board Dynamics in 2009 was a logical step. He now uses his experience to help boards function at their peak.

Henri has an international education and broad experience. He holds a LLB (Hons) from the University of London, BA (Distinction) from McGill University, MBA from Richmond University, Master's in Corporate and Commercial Law from the University of Auckland, a Postgraduate Diploma in Entrepreneurship and a Master's degree in Sustainability Leadership, both from the University of Cambridge.

Henri also completed the prestigious MIT Global Entrepreneurship Bootcamp and was awarded a certificate in New Ventures Leadership from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

His senior executive career has followed a similar path, working with JP Morgan Chase and PwC in London, Deloitte in New York and Bank of Montreal (BMO) in Toronto.

Henri is a Chartered Fellow of the Institute of Directors in New Zealand, Professional member of Resolution Institute and Associate Member of Arbitrators' and Mediators' Institute of New Zealand. He trained as a mediator at Harvard Law School.

Henri has published 2 books on corporate governance entitled Board Shorts (2017) and Board Shorts The Next Wave (2022). Previously, he's been a regular contributor for the New Zealand Herald, Stuff and National Business Review for 10 years.

Henri is currently Chairman Balle Bros Group, Dodson Motorsport, Camerons and Trustee Plunket Foundation.
